Cannot Recover.

TWO FUNERALS HELD TODAY

Mayfield, Ky., Aug. 4.—(Special.)—Poses are scouring the southern end of Graves county in the hope of securing the reward of $100 offered for the capture of Stanley Jones, who shot and mortally wounded Otto Henry Sunday during a drunken brawl Sunday evening. All trace of the fugitive has been lost. That section is greatly stirred over the tragedy and brothers of the wounded boy vow vengeance. It is believed Jones escaped into Tennessee, but he probably will have to come out of hiding before long. Henry is sinking and it is believed cannot survive the night.

The Metropolis Tragedy.
Metropolis, Ill., Aug. 4.—(Special.)—Two funerals were held today as the result of the tragedy Sunday night, when James Kelly in a fit of jealousy killed Link James and committed suicide. James was buried at 9 o'clock this morning at Seven Mile church. Kelly was buried at 3 o'clock in the Odd Fellows' cemetery. Miss Eva Sleeter, who was shot by Kelly, was reported better this morning, but no hope for her recovery is extended. The bullet that plowed through her abdomen cut the bowels into tatters, and she almost died to death before surgical aid was secured.

The Rev. William Grother, the popular young pastor of the German Lutheran church, left yesterday for Milwaukee, where he will wed Miss Helen Loebner tomorrow. The happy couple will spend a month visiting and will be at home at 416 South Fourth street September 3.

JIM MACK

MAKES HIS ESCAPE FROM PERSECUTING JUSTICE.

Jumps Back Fence, and Escapes
George Brown in Long Hurdle Race.

Jim Mack, colored, is about as good a runner as he is a roller of the cubes, and he used his legs last night to escape a fine for gambling. Mack has been under surveillance of the police for several days, but last night George Brown, chain-gang boss, received a tip that Mack was within hailing distance. The guide took him to the square, but he pointed out Mack too soon. Mack has served under Brown and remembered his master, but Mr. Brown did not have such a good memory. Anyway, Mack saw the chain-gang boss, and thought of working on the street and he broke and ran. Mr. Brown started sprinting, too, and down Fourth street to Washington street the course went. At Sixth and Washington streets the chase ended as Mack began jumping fences, and although Jailer Brown has claim to be a sprinter, hurdling is out of his line. Fortunately for Mack, there were several people on the street at the time or there might have been an injured crap shooter in the hospital.

ENTERPRISING ROOSTER
NEAR NO. 2 STATION.

Charles Summers, 409 Elizabeth street, has the prize chicken of the city if the veracity of the firemen of No. 2 station can be relied upon. At least, it is a fowl out of the ordinary, and it is said that the chicken is a curiosity because it has been raised in proximity of the fire station. The chicken is a two-months-old white rooster of common stock, but long before the people are up the chicken is around in the yard of the fire station pecking up scraps of grass. The firemen on watch any the chicken is in the yard before dawn. Furthermore the chicken, according to the fire fighters, never goes to roost until 8:30 or 9 o'clock, when it is so dark he can not see. But not to roost, for the chicken instead of selecting some top limb, will go into the chicken house and lie down on its side for its night's rest.

Night of Terror Passed by People of Russellville and Guthrie Who Wait and Watch For Night Riders

Russellville, Ky., Aug. 4.—(Special.)—Last night was a night of terror at Russellville and Guthrie on account of reports of a mob on its way to both towns. One rumor said it was negroes and another night riders. At Russellville the fire bells were rung, whistles were blown and Sheriff

ANTICIPATES HIS FINE AND JOINS CITY CHAIN GANG

When it was discovered that a prisoner was missing in police court this morning instantly the officers of the court were on the jump to find him. Jim Hale, colored, could have slipped out, and while the police were looking out the windows, expecting to see a cloud of dust down the street, City Jailer Wade Brown remembered that Hale was out on the chain-gang. Hale was arrested yesterday by Patrolman Henry Singery on an old warrant charging him with gambling. Hale did not deny his guilt this morning he got up and went out with the gang, and did not wait for Judge Cross to write the judgment across his name. After the missing man had been located Judge Cross took for granted that Hale wanted to plead guilty, and wrote $20 and costs opposite Hale's name.

Accidentally Shot.

Hickman, Ky., Aug. 4.—Yancy Webb, who resides in West Hickman, was accidentally shot by Henry Coffee. While Coffee was putting a 22-caliber gun into his dinner basket preparatory to starting home from where Haydon de Chiere bridge, where they were cutting timber, the hammer caught on the handle of the basket and the gun went off. The bullet struck Webb just below the ribs on the right side and came out through the back. The wound will not prove fatal but is very serious and painful.

SERIOUS RESULT

Hot weather has made a serious situation for John Holliday, a bricklayer, who applied to City Physician Dr. Harry Williamson this morning to have his broken right arm dressed, as the arm has begun to mortify, where it was broken over two weeks ago. Holliday said his home was in Cincinnati and that he is well-known among masons here. While working on a two-story building in Jackson, Miss., two weeks ago, he fell and sustained the injury, which was dressed there and he started for Cincinnati. He refused to go to the hospital in Memphis and came here on masons' passes. Dr. Williamson sent him to the Riverside hospital.

No. 2 Steamer O. K.

The steamer at the No. 2 fire station was tested yesterday afternoon late and the little engine was in first class shape. New coils have been put in and now the firemen are ready for any mill fire. BOYS' HOME AMBITION OF COUNTY JUDGE

Already Promised Six Acres of Ground and One Fourth Lumber.

Says Institution Is Essential to Community.

FISCAL COURT IN SESSION

"My ambition, gentlemen," said County Judge R. T. Lightfoot this morning, addressing fiscal court, "is to see a school of detention for boys erected in McCracken county before I step down out of my office." This statement, in addition to its intrinsic interest, was a formal declaration that he will not be a candidate for re-election in the November primary. "I have had one man to promise six acres of ground for such an adjunct to the juvenile court," Judge Lightfoot continued. "Another has promised one-fourth of the lumber, and I have other promises that will put up the school of detention without cost to the county, except that we would be required to support it. Not a day passes that I do not see the great need of such an institution, which would obviate the necessity of sending simply mischievous boys to the reform school. I hope in a short while to announce to you definite arrangements for the project and shall expect your co-operation."

Fiscal court met a regular session this morning and disposed of the accumulated business of July before noon. Magistrates Bleich and Broadfoot, who were a committee to buy a county pauper cemetery, reported that they had purchased 3 1/2 acres adjoining the county sanitarium on the Lone Oak road, for $345. There will be space in this cemetery for 2,500 graves. The front porch of the sanitarium, the water tank and other work were ordered painted by the court.

Col. W. T. Patterson, who owns property at Sixth and Clay streets, and also on Broadway, has declared emphatically that he will not connect with the sewer, and to test the matter Health Officer Dr. H. P. Sighe swore out a warrant against Colonel Patterson. Colonel Patterson has expressed his word that he will carry the case to a higher court if the ordinance is sustained by Police Judge D. A. Cross. The ordinance prescribes a fine of from $5 to $20 and each day that the property is not connected is a separate offense.

Report Shows Where School Money Went

The Standard's Brazen Action.

Notwithstanding the fact that its property, where hundreds of gallons of coal oil and gasoline are stored on ground soaked for years with the inflammable fluid, caught fire in the heart of the city from a passing locomotive, and that the fire chief condemned the presence of the tanks in the city as a menace to life and property, the Standard Oil company brazenly lets the contract for rebuilding its burned structures, and has already begun laying its foundation, and this while the general council presumably has the question of removal under consideration. Such a carefully and economically conducted concern as the Standard Oil company would not incur an expense of several thousand dollars, knowing that in all probability it would have to move its plant and abandon the new buildings in a short time. Yet the general council, which referred the matter of investigating conditions in other cities to the city solicitor, has not acted, and has received no report officially. Citizens, owning property in the vicinity of the Standard Oil plant and residents in the west end, took the deliberate action of the general council in good faith; though they could not understand why it should be necessary to investigate conditions elsewhere, when the officials can see the conditions here and ought to know that coal oil and gasoline are inflammable, that the railroad locomotives throw sparks and that when excessive quantities of coal oil and gasoline are located beside a railroad track they are exposed to danger of ignition, and fire in the tanks is likely to be communicated to surrounding property. If that is not obvious, there is the fact that just such a thing did occur and the opinion of the fire chief to back it up. But the Standard Oil company either did not take the general council seriously, or it got a tip as to what the council will do or what the report will be, or else it is acting impudently and impudently in rebuilding in the face of the protest and in anticipation of the finding of the general council.

MORPHINE VICTIM SWALLOWS TABLET OF STRYCHNINE FOUND ON CITY DUMP

Annie Mitchell Saved Only After Heroic Remedies Were Resorted to.

Death nearly resulted from some body's innocent act in throwing a bottle of strychnine tablets in their back yard trash and having it hauled to the dump on the river front below Clay street, where Mrs. Annie Mitchell, a morphine eater, who was fishing at the river, found it and swallowed seven of the tablets to satisfy her craving for drugs.

City Physician Harry Williamson was called to attend Mrs. Mitchell several hours after she had taken the strychnine and by heroic measures, managed to save her life. She is now out of danger. Mrs. Mitchell is the hunchback woman who, with her son, goes about the streets begging and picking rags. She lives at Seventh and Barnett streets and her relatives believed she attempted suicide, but she told the story or finding

GHOULS ROBBING VICTIMS OF FIRE ---MARTIAL LAW

Vanconver, H. C., Aug. 4.—Slav miners in the region devastated by the forest fire are looting homes and victims of the flames. Martial law was declared to combat the ghouls. Hundreds of volunteer deputies were sent into the region to stop the outrages. It is predicted that Canadian miners will lynch the vandals if they are caught. The fire is still burning fiercely and has nearly reached the Montana line.

SCHOOL COAL BIDS

Coal bids for the city schools for next year will be finally considered at the regular meeting of the school board tonight. They were received in a special meeting two weeks ago. The course of study for next year also will be adopted and few changes are likely. The bond issue will be discussed and some definite action will be taken in regard to them. Only one more regular meeting intervenes before the opening of school and much routine business will be transacted tonight.

BRYAN MAY WRITE TO EVERY VOTER IN THIS COUNTRY

Lincoln, Aug. 4.—A plan is afoot whereby every voter in every doubtful state will get a personal letter from Wm. J. Bryan. Harvey Garber, the Ohio national committeeman, has sent Edgar Schmidt to lay the plan before the candidate. Bryan agreed to write the letters if the national committee is willing to pay the postage. Schmidt is now en route to lay the matter before the National Chairman, Mack. Bryan expressed himself as greatly pleased with the decision of Secretary of State Junkin that Populist electors cannot appear on the Nebraska state ticket.

INDEBTEDNESS OF BOARD AMOUNTS TO $22,287.11 NOW

Secretary Kelly And Trustee
Clements Go Over Books
and Produce Table Showing Disposition of Money.

Secretary C. G. Kelly, of the school board, and Trustee Clements have gone carefully over the books of the last board and prepared a financial statement, which will be submitted to the board tonight, showing just where the money was spent and what indebtedness is still outstanding. The board owes $22,287.11.

In a separate report they show how the money was spent on new buildings, particularly the $25,000 received from the sale of the Longfellow school at Fifth street and Kentucky avenue. One mistake made by this board's predecessor, and one that those two trustees opposed, was confining regular school revenue with the $25,000, which was to be set apart as a building fund. Trustees Clements and Kelly favored holding the regular revenue for the maintenance of the schools, and going into debt for the balance of the building fund rather than cripple the system by using its funds for new buildings. However, the funds were confused and the debt was incurred just the same.

The alleged balance of $3,771.88 on the books July 31, 1907, when Secretary Kelly took charge, was more than offset by some $6,000 owed the bank and overdrafts in anticipation of revenue.

The report follows from August 1, 1907, to August 1, 1908:

Gasoline Starts Blaze.

While she was using gasoline to start a fire in the kitchen stove, the home of Mollie Crossland, colored, 1204 Terrell street, caught fire this morning from the burning oil. An alarm was given and companies Nos. 3 and 4 answered, but before the long run was made the flames had secured a good start and the house was doomed. The building with all of the household goods was destroyed, and the loss will amount to about $800 with several hundred dollars insurance. The house next door, belonging to George Bernhard, was scorched and damaged about $100. The alarm was received when half of the firemen were at breakfast, but the fire ladders soon put out the fire although a long line of hose had to be laid.

BOND ISSUE WILL BE SUBMITTED

Lower Board Refuses to Reconsider Its Action.

Question of Right to Open Saloon in Abandoned Stand Is Before Committee.

BOARD OF COUNCILMEN MEET

Straddled by the council men and aldermen the proposition to vote $100,000 in bonds for street improvements will go before the popular November for a final adjournment. The council last night refused to reconsider its action in voting for the bond issue, as the aldermen have done, and the council adjourned therefore stands and must be executed. There was no reason for the councilmen thought, was they should reconsider their action taken last night several weeks ago. Councilman Young alone voted to reconsider.

Had Weeks been the right to run a saloon at 129 Kentucky avenue, in the building formerly occupied by Will Word, without waiting to have their application for a license passed upon by the general council, is a question that the board referred to the council committee last night. City Solicitor James Thompson advised Weeks that because the same day Word moved out to 100 Broadway, the building had not been closed as a saloon, and they could go ahead, after paying notice, with their business until the council approved or disapproved their application. He said the board had a resolution to that effect which guided him in his decision.

Councilmen Duval and Lackey and President Lindsey thought that when Word moved out to 100 Broadway his old stand at 129 Kentucky avenue was thereby made a new place of business, and anyone who operated a saloon in the old stand without making formal application for license and waiting to have the application passed upon, did not like. It has been the custom to allow saloon men to continue business until their licenses were renewed but they thought this was not a parallel case. Councilman Lackey introduced a resolution that will prevent a similar situation arising in the future.

Councilman Foreman moved a motion that was carried to reconsider this action of the board in refusing a license to J. L. Porter at Seventh and Campbell streets, one of the saloons objected to by First ward citizens on account of the character of women in the neighborhood. On the grounds that new evidence makes it advisable to give him another hearing. The new evidence is to the effect that the women have left and there is no longer any valid objection to the license. It was referred to the council committee. First passage was given to an ordinance allowing saloonists to transfer their licenses.

The Sanitary Inspector, Dr. H. P. Sights represented the mayor and board of health in a petition for a third sanitary inspector for the next two months on account of the pressure of work on the present force of two inspectors, which was granted on condition that city ordinance permitted the action. His salary will be $10 a month. Dr. Sights also presented a deed from property owners to the city for the alley between Twelfth and Thirteenth streets and between Jefferson and Monroe streets, which is unsanitary, and an ordinance was ordered brought in for its improvement.

Theodore Peters was granted a license for a saloon at 1017 Kentucky avenue.

At their own expense the park commission proposes to pave Tenth street between Broadway and Kentucky avenue, with bluestone, for a distance of 68 feet from Broadway to where the parkway will begin. In this paved place a fountain will be installed. The cost of the street on both sides of the parkway will be graveled.

Sewer Inspection.

Sewers will be laid from Fourteenth and Trimble streets to the new Oak Grove cemetery walling room. If the cemetery committee to whom the recommendation was referred, thinks it advisable at a cost of $585. Mrs. Mary A. Sargent was given a deed to a lot in Oak Grove cemetery, and a transfer of a lot from T. L. Beard to H. A. Hennesberger was nullified. The cost of putting the new addition into shape will be $13,000. City Engineer Washington finds, instead of $20,000, as previously announced.

Office rumors on Broadway between Fifth and Sixth streets, numbering a dozen or more, protested against the balance of the photograph in the Bijou theater, but must get relief from the police court as the council recently killed an ordinance regulating these instruments, and no new one can be introduced for six months.

Mrs. Kate Owen protested that, although she has not owned a horse in two years, she was assessed for one and a buggy, too, this year.

Captain William Horneman offered to compensate his claim for $254 against the city for sewer connection on his Twelfth street property, by his paying half and the city half. He was exempted from paying the expense by allowing the sewer to cross his property. It will be investigated.

Concurring in the action of the mayor and aldermen, the councilmen donated $75 to the Farmers' Union, which will meet here the last three days of this week. A resolution was adopted allowing members of the standing committee $3 each a month and finding them that amount if they fail to attend without an adequate excuse.

The book tax books were ordered delivered to City Solicitor James Campbell, Jr.

The report of Chief Collins, of the police department, was filed. Two orders to extend the water mains on water committee were referred to the water company.

The report of the board of public works on Farley Place was referred to the street committee.

Balance in the city treasury July 1, $80,673.98; collection in July, $51,816; disbursements, $56,918.47; balance August 1, $56,918.47.

TWO ELEVATORS ARE DESTROYED

Chicago Firemen Unable to Get Closer Than a Block.

Armour & Co. Lose Elevators Containing $70,000 Worth of Grain Belonging to that Concern.

TOTAL LOSS IS OVER $1,000,000.

Chicago Aug. 1.—A fire, which was so hot that the firemen could not get nearer than within a block of it, and which made it necessary to play streams of water three and four squares away, yesterday destroyed Burlington elevators "B" and "P." The dock transfer house of that road, and either burned or rendered useless 150 box cars.

The loss on the grain in the elevators is placed by Armour & Co. company, who owned it, at $700,000. The total loss is $1,000,000.

The fire started at 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon in the Burlington warehouse, supposedly from a cigarette dropped near several barrels containing chemicals.

At the first explosion, which shook every building in the vicinity, two hundred and fifty men employed in the warehouse and elevators fled, and it is believed that all escaped, although there were unconfirmed reports that three men, hemmed in by the flames, had been unable to get away.

Firemen Worked Hard.

Eight fire engine companies, and three fire trucks had all they could do to contain the conflagration to its original limits.

The intense heat rendered any effort to save the elevators hopeless. The firemen worked continuously in a shower of sparks and flaming embers which traveled for blocks.

At 3 o'clock Fire Marshal Horan declared that any further spread of the flames was not to be feared. Tonight, however, several engines are pouring streams into the glowing wreckage.

TOBACCO NEWS

Clarksburg Tobacco.

Clarksburg, Tenn., Aug. 1.—Receipts in the open tobacco market last week were 35 hogsheds; sales, 111 hogsheds; the market was firm with wider demands. As sales are larger than receipts, stocks are being reduced. The field crop of tobacco has been improving under the recent rains, and about two-thirds of the crop has been topped. Wherever the cultivation has been good, the crop looks well, but there is a fair proportion of small plants for which steady growing weather is needed.

The association salesmen report sales of 225 hogsheds at quite satisfactory prices. The demands were more varied and fireman is taking more freely.

There is talk of starting a large seed factory plant, and Clarksburg seems the most desirable location, as it has a full supply of trained labor available for a factory, besides stock in warehouses, thus saving freight, and the freight rates on snuff are than from any point, and the saving would be a profit in itself.

Hopkinsville Tobacco.

Hopkinsville, Ky., Aug. 1.—Last week was another dull one in local tobacco circles, the sales for the week showing a slight decrease from the week preceding. Even with these conditions there is no indication of a decrease in prices, the farmers' organizations, which control all the tobacco in sight, steadily demanding the full schedule figures.

With the Planters' Protective Association the sales amounted forty-seven hogsheds, while receipts were eighteen hogsheds. Some sales were made nearly every day of the week. The buyers all say they are ready and anxious to make purchases, but that the orders are not forthcoming. Sales for the month were 431 hogsheds and for the year 2,815 hogsheds.

Quieter conditions were also noted in the Society of Equity warehouse during the week, not so many hogsheds being sold as during the preceding week.

A report as to the general condition of the market, as seen by Broker M. H. Boales during the month, is as follows:

"The past month has been quite dull, and sales were small for the reason. This was due to the uncertain condition of the tobacco which has been passing through the sweating process produced by hot weather. This is now well past, and inspections show the tobacco to be in better condition than had been anticipated. The growing crop is doing well in the field, but is very irregular in growth on account of varying times of planting. Some is now past the first suckering, and will be cut about August 15 to 20. Much of it is spreading on the hill and growing nicely. The prospects are good for a good-size crop of all styles of dark tobacco that may be wanted. Prices remain unchanged as to grade, nothing selling below $7. Quotations are:

Knew the World Was Rolling.

A staggering man, much the worse for drink, slowly made his way out of the side door of one of the well-known Broadway drinking emporiums the other afternoon, and with a comical attempt at dignity, navigated for the nearest lamp post, where, after a circuitous course, he finally neared.

Just at this moment a newsboy hove in sight—the kid was hapover something, and being at peace with the world, was trying to amuse passersby as well as himself by a few vocal stunts. Finally, after warbling "Just Someone," "True Heart" and several other popular songs now current in the metropolis, he switched off into "As Long as the World Rolls On."

All this time the inebriated one had been listening to the gamine in a listless manner, but as soon as he started on the last named song, he suddenly took renewed interest. As the kid finished with the same line of the chorus, "Just as the Long as the World Rolls On," he beckoned him to, where he was holding onto the lamp post for dear life.

"I shay, kid," he stammered, "ish the whole world rollin' about, or ish jush this damned ol' posht?"

"Fine alrsh you have, old man," said the friend. "What do you call her?"

"The Porterhouse," replied the gamine.

"Named after a heefsteak. Well! Well! Isn't that rather unusual?"

"Not at all. I named her that because she is always rising.—Chicago News.

Daily Thought.

"Perseverance accomplishes more than precipitation."

The British parliament was in session six months and passed two bills. Who is their Joe Cannon?

An oil well in Mexico has developed into a volcano. We knew the Standard company would go too far some time.

The very name of the fugitive sub-secretary of Turkey, Izzet Pasha, suggests a question of identity, and since the person under the protection of the British embassy is supposed to resemble the missing official, the Sultan is justified in asking, "Ain't it Izzet?"

The war vessel of the future will be a swift, noiseless, noiseless craft, lying low in the water, with every vulnerable part below the water line, the entire deck being given over to the work of the guns," says a Washington dispatch, commenting on the possibilities of the new noiseless powder. Now, what are we going to do with those old tubs we have sent around the world?

EDUCATING THE FARMER.

State authorities are doing no work for the future of the state greater than trying to interest farmers in the chemistry of the soil and other scientific subjects pertaining to agriculture, for the purpose of making farming in Kentucky at once interesting and profitable, to keep the young men here, to increase the wealth of the state and maintain the equilibrium between country and urban population.

In the reckless, haphazard fashion of American farming, inherited from forefathers who had the whole continent behind them, the tendency is to farm as many acres as possible until the land becomes poor and then go west on cheap land and repeat the process. Presently the cheap land of the west will be exhausted. The irrigated land is expensive, and America is to be faced with the problem of food before the generation born today slides the plow to its children.

The population is increasing at a remarkable rate, and the decline of farming, occasioned by the unprofitableness of our reckless system, is accentuating the excessive growth of the city population. While we have more mouths to feed the number of people engaged in producing food is decreasing and the acreage in the most densely settled regions is falling off appreciably.

There is but one course to pursue. Educate the farmers to keep their old land in condition. They can easily do this, if the soil is analyzed for them, and they are made acquainted with the particular crops for which it is best suited, the best method of raising and marketing those crops, and the chemical elements, which must be artificially supplied to the soil.

All this looks simple enough to the city man, need to studying his business; but the farmer has centuries of stagnation behind him. He farms as did his father, who followed the methods learned from his father. In McCracken county especially it is difficult to interest farmers in the county institute to which experts are sent to lecture on these subjects. Now and then some farmer, more progressive than others, communicates with the state experiment station and succeeds in producing an unusual crop, and he becomes a convert to the modern methods.

Before the farmer can be educated to scientific farming, he must be educated to interest in scientific farming. The periodical institute is accomplishing the work slowly and at a great expense. The little interest aroused by discussion at the institute dies out before the next, and a handful of men, mostly city farmers, attend. Printers ink would be cheaper and would reach every farmer. The agricultural department would get better results, reaching a larger class of farmers at once and persistently impressing the facts on them, by printing this information in its orators' possess, and mailing it to every farmer in the state.

Farmers do read farm news; but many of them are suspicious of "unpractical scientists," and they hate to lose a day or two days and tire themselves out, besides going to the expense of staying all night and a day "in town." They can read the pamphlets at home in the evenings, and discuss what they read with their neighbors.

The day of the orator is past. This is the day of printers' ink.

TIGHT WAISTS.

Washington, Aug. 4.—While foreign governments are insisting that the American representatives at their courts be millionaires, so that they can hold up their end socially, investigation reveals that the foreign diplomats here are making reputations that a "tightwad" might envy.

Secretary Root is credited with being about to turn this situation to good account. Mr. Root resents the position of the foreign governments in requiring money qualification of an American ambassador. "This country never asks about the income of the men sent here. This same courtesy is to be demanded for the American envoys. Millionaires who get appointments may spend their money if they like, but the Secretary of State wants all American officials to know it is not necessary, as the example of the diplomat stationed in Washington proves.

Knowing people at the national capital are watching with keen interest the efforts of the American diplomats abroad to have their salaries doubled, tripled or quadrupled.

James Bryce Gets $60,000.

Of course what ambassadors and ministers spend here on private enterprises for their governments cannot be reckoned. But their entertainments and general mode of living are an open page. The man who draws the biggest salary in Washington is James Bryce, who gets $50,000 annually and an additional $10,000 a year for contingent expenses. Mr. Bryce has one of the finest mansions which the capital can boast, completely furnished, with an extra fund to pay for any necessary repairs or new equipment. He has then, silver and glass at the expense of the British exchequer, and even the liveries of his retainers come from the public fund.

Yet with this vast sum at their disposal, few people live more unpretentiously than the British ambassador and Mrs. Bryce. Their social record during the last winter contained fewer events than any of the immediate predecessors. Mrs. Bryce gave about six small afternoon receptions during the season, when tea and small confections were served.

Big Entertainments are Few.

There were two large evening levees, when practically the whole of Washington's official and social world was entertained. About three formal and pretentious banquets were given by the British ambassador during the winter. Some eight or ten small dinners, mere family affairs, complete the sum total of the Bryce entertainments during the last winter.

But little more can be placed to the credit of the French ambassador and Mme. Jusserand, second on the list of big salaries. M. Jusserand gets $42,500 a year, about $10,000 for extra expenses. The dean of the corps, the Italian ambassador, Baron Mayor Des Planches, is almost out of the social running.

In view of the loud lamentations about what a hard time American diplomats abroad have to make ends meet, it is said that Secretary Root and some legislators who are in his confidence will prevent the next complaints with a story of what good managers the diplomats who live in Washington have proved themselves.

Kind Lady.—But that isn't the same story you told the last time you were here.

Chapter II

THE CLAIRBORNE OF WASHINGTON.

THE girl with the white plumed hat started and flushed slightly, and her brother glanced over his shoulder toward the restaurant door to see what had attracted her attention.

"This he, the unknown, Dick."

"I must say I like his persistence," exclaimed the young fellow, turning again to the table. "In America I should call him out and punch his head, but over here—"

"Over here you have better manners," replied the girl, laughing. "But why trouble yourself? He doesn't even look at us. We are of no importance to him whatever. We probably speak a different language."

"But he travels by the same trains, he stops at the same inns, he sits near us at the theater—he even affects the same pictures in the same galleries! It's growing a trifle monotonous. It's really insufferable. I think I shall have to try my stick on him."

"You flatter yourself, Richard," mocked the girl. "He's fully your height and a trifle broader across the shoulders. The lines about his mouth are almost—yes, I should say, quite—as firm as yours, though he is a younger man. His eyes are nice blue ones, and they are very steady. His hair is—" slightly, her eyes wandering for an instant to the subject of her comment—"light brown, I should call it. And he is headless, as all self-respecting men should be."

She rested her cheek against her lightly clasped hands and sighed deeply.

Shirley

every time the fellow imitations his cost."

"Mr. Chauvet is an accomplished man of the world," declared Shirley, with an insouciant sparkle in her eyes.

"He lives by his wits, and lives well."

Clairborne dismissed Chauvet and turned again toward the strange young man, who was still deep in his newspaper.

"He's reading the Neue Freie Presse," remarked Dick, "by which token I argue that he's some sort of a Dutchman. He's probably a traveling agent for a Vienna glass factory or a drummer for a cheap wine house or the agent for a Munich brewery. That would account for his travels. We simply fall in with his commercial line, ray."

"You seem to imply, brother, that my charms are not in themselves sufficient, but a commercial traveler hardly commends that fine remark. That distinction, that air of having been places and seen things and known people."

"Tush! I have seen American look agents who had all that, even the air of having seen places. Your instincts ought to serve you better, Shirley. It's well that we go on tomorrow. I shall warn mother and the governor that you need watching."

Shirley Clairborne's eyes rested again upon the calm reader of the Neue Freie Presse. The waiter was now placing certain dishes upon the table without apparently interesting the young gentleman in the least. Then the unknown dropped his newspaper and buttered a roll reflectively. His gaze swept the room for the first time, passing over the heads of Miss Clairborne and her brother unseeing with perhaps too studied an air of indifference.

Captain Richard Clairborne and his sister Shirley had stopped at Geneva to spend a week with a younger brother who was in school there and were to join their father and mother at Liverpool and sail for home at once. The Clairbornes were permanent residents of Washington, where, Hilton Clairborne, a former ambassador to two of the greatest European courts, was counsel for several of the embassies and a recognized authority in international law. He had been to Rome to report to the Italian government the result of his efforts to collect damages from the United States for the slaughter of Italian laborers in a railroad strike and had proceeded thence to England on other professional business.

NOT HEREDITARY.

Baldness Due to a Living Minute Germ.

Many people, even unto the present day of grace, consider baldness due to hereditary influence.

Nothing is further from the truth. Baldness is caused by the onslaught of a minute organism which secretes itself beneath the scalp and attacks the roots of the hair—enslaving it to lose its life and fall out.

This organism cannot be got rid of except by the free and persevering use of Newbro's Herpicide.

No matter how badly the scalp is effected the dandruff surely disappears and hair health is restored when Herpicide is applied.

"Destroy the cause, you remove the effect."

Sold by leading druggists. Two sizes, 50c and $1.00. Send the stamps to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.—R. W. Walker Co., Special Agents.

The girl. "You know our parents dear were with us when we first began to notice him that was in home—and now that we are alone he continues to follow our trail just the same. It's really diverting, and if you were a good brother you'd find out all about him, and we might even do stunts together—the three of us, with you as the watchful chaperon. You forget how I have worked for you, Dick. I took great chances in forcing an acquaintance with those frosty English people at Florence just because you were crazy about the scrappy blond who wore the frightful hats. I wash my hands of you hereafter. Your taste in girls is horrible."

"Your mind has been affected by reading these fake kingdom romances, where a ridiculous prince gives up home and mother and his country to marry the usual beautiful American girl who travels about having silly adventures. I belong to the Know Nothing party—America for Americans and only white men on guard!"

"Yes, Richard, your sentiments are worthy, but they'd have more weight if I hadn't even seen scaring your eyes out every time we came within a mile of a penny princess. I haven't forgot ten your disgraceful conduct in collecting photographs of that homely daughter of a certain English duke. Well, call the incident closed, little brother."

"Our friend Chauvet—even," continued Captain Clairborne, "is less persistent, less gloomily present on the horizon. We haven't seen him for a week or two. But he expects to visit Washington this spring. His waistcoats are magnificent. The governor shies at every time the fellow imitations his cost."

"Mr. Chauvet is an accomplished man of the world," declared Shirley, with an insouciant sparkle in her eyes.

"He lives by his wits, and lives well."

Clairborne dismissed Chauvet and turned again toward the strange young man, who was still deep in his newspaper.

GREAT THROGS

ATTEND LEVY'S REMARKABLE CLOSING OUT SALE.

Opportunity Seized By Shrewd Shoppers to Get the Best Values of Recent Years.

When Levy opened his store this morning at 8 o'clock, for the final week of his going-out-of-business sale, the establishment was thronged with eager shoppers, attracted by the unheard-of value offerings, and all day the selling has been heavy. Extra clerks have been put on for the occasion, however, and the crowds are being handled with dispatch and satisfaction.
As a finale to his great closing out sale, Mr. Levy has gone over the entire stock and marked prices still lower, as an effort to absolutely dispose of everything before the end of the week. The fixtures in the store have been sold, and the new tenant is anxious to take possession, so he must resort to great efforts to get his stock out of the way. Just turn to his announcement in the display columns of The Sun for some big special values for tomorrow's selling.

The Annihilation of Distance.

How much nearer to each other the nations of the world are today than they were a few decades ago! When weeks and months were required to get news from across the ocean the old world seemed to be a long way off. Now the whole earth is belted with telegraph and cable lines, and the yesterday's happenings in Europe, Asia, Africa, South America, Australia and the islands of the sea are read at this morning's breakfast table. Distance is annihilated, and the nations are becoming friendly neighbors in consequence. The marvelous change is brought home to the mind most strikingly upon reading a great modern newspaper whose telegraphic news covers the whole world each day—a paper such as the Chicago Record-Herald, which has a veritable army of correspondents in every important city. In addition to its own staff of correspondents The Record-Herald has the benefit of the foreign news service of the New York Herald, famous for its world wide cable system and for the reliability of its foreign news; also that of the New York World and the New York Journal of Commerce, besides that great co-operative news-gathering organization, the Associated Press.

WILLIAM SHAKESPEARE WAS THE MAIDEN FATHER.

He Is Big Chief of the Arapahoe Indians, and at Her Wedding She Got 1,050 Elk Teeth.

Riverton, Wyo., Aug. 3.—One of the interesting features of the week's celebration which the Arapahoe Indians of this section closed yesterday was the wedding of a daughter of William Shakespeare, one of the oldest Indians on the reservation, and Big Tracks, a stalwart young buck.

The Christian ceremony was performed by the Rev. Father Sifton, at ter which the bride ceremony took place. The bride received many presents from the Indians, including several ponies, handwork, carols, blankets, and from her father she received a jacket embroidered with 1,050
elk teeth, and valued at considerably more than $5,000.

Many whites witnessed the wedding, and these showered the bride with silver, whereupon there was a hasty consultation among the leading Arapahoe old men. At the conclusion of the confab the old men advanced, one by one and gave the bride their blessings, each relieving her of a silver dollar at the same time. When the dollars were exhausted, the blessings ceased.

William Shakespeare, the father of the bride, is a remarkable man. He is 104 years old, and was not married until he had passed 50. In his old age he became the father of a large family, the daughter just married being his last child, born when he was 84 years old.

A Berlin paper says that "Now York is the third German city in the world in point of population. "With its 650,000 Germans." It says, "It exceeded in size only by Berlin, which has about 2,000,000, and by Hamburg, which has 750,000. The other large German cities are Munich, 620,000 and Dresden, 500,

DON'T FOR FAT FOLKS.

Here are the don'ts for fat folks
if they would avoid getting fatter during the lazy months: Don't drink water, don't eat rich foods,
don't indulge in spirituous liquors,
don't eat candy, don't lie in the hammock; in short, don't take it easy or enjoy yourself at all, but keep moving regardless of winded collar and soiled shirtwaist. Take long walks, eat starchy food, drink little and sleep seven hours or less—no more. If you don't fancy that programme, you can adopt the "Detrotit Idea." If reports from the Michigan City be only half true, the "Detroit Idea" is certainly a blessing to the fat. In the first place, it is inexpensive; second, it is perfectly harmless; and third, no dieting is necessary—you can eat what you like. Nevertheless, it takes off the fat without causing wrinkles, at the rate, it is claimed, of a pound a day.
Here is the recipe in full: Stop over to your druggist and ask for one-half ounce of Marmola, one-half ounce of Field Extract (Cascara Aromatic), and three and one-half ounces of Syrup Simplex. Get the Marmola in the sealed half-ounce package and mix with the other two at home, as it is necessary this latter should be fresh to get the best results. Then take one teaspoonful after meals and at bedtime until your fat is gone. Simple, isn't it? You can eat, drink and sleep as you please this summer and yet be just as slim as you like without any chance of injury to your health or your increase.

ELECTION RETURNS

IN CUBA INDICATE GENERAL
CONSERVATIVE GAINS.

Probability That Julio De Cardenas
Has Been Elected Mayor of Havana City.

Havana, Aug. 4.—The result of Saturday's provincial and municipal elections is still hanging in the balance. Only fragmentary reports have been received from the interior, but these indicate general conservative gains and point to the probability that the conservatives carried all the provinces with one or two exceptions Matanzas City, Sagua, La Grande and Santiago are known to have been strongly conservative. Gor-ner Dougherty, of Oriente province, formerly the Province of Santiago, reports that three-fifths of the municipalities there give Mignelista
a slight estimated plurality. Camaguey and Pinar Del Rio evidently are conservative. In Santa Clara province it is believed the conservatives are ahead.

In Havana province there is a close fight between the conservatives and Mignelistas. The Zayistas carried the Isle of Pines by a big majority, but are running in third place throughout the island. In Havana City there is a great confusion over the canvass of the vote. Only a few district returns had been received up to this morning and tonight some are lacking owing to the failure of district boards to forward them to the central board in the manner prescribed by law. The latter board therefore has been unable to forward
the reports to Colonel Crowder, of the department of state and justice, for tabulation, and probably two or three days will elapse before the result in the city is officially declared.
The probability, however, is that Julio De Cardenas has been re-elected mayor of Havana and that the city vote will be sufficient to offset the country vote for governor for General Asbert Mignelista against General Emilio Nunez, conservative.
Advices from all sections of the island show that absolute tranquility prevails. Governor Magon has received from all the provinces messages of congratulation for the admirable working of the new electoral law drafted by Colonel Crowder.

Some men are too good to be clever and some are too clever to be good.

FAT JOB OPEN

AS SECRETARY OF NEW EDU-CATIONAL COMMISSION.

Sweeping Changes in Schools Ous-tuns of Kentucky—More Efficient Teachers.

Frankfort, Ky., Aug. 4.—The educational commission, appointed and elected under a resolution passed by the last session of the general assembly, will be called to meet in this city some time in the near future, probably the latter part of this week or the first of next week. One of the most important matters that the commission will have to look after at the first meeting is the election of a clerk or secretary of the commission.
The salary will likely be fixed at $1-200 to $1,500 a year and ordinarily it would seem the job would be a good, fat, easy one, but Superintendent Cahill needs more assistance in his office, and it is likely that the secretary of the commission will be put in the harness in the superintendent's office when not at work for the commission.

Politics will not be considered in the selection of this official, but the secretary must be a man thoroughly familiar with the school system of the state, for among his duties will be to assist in framing the amendments for the new school bill, and keep in touch with the commissions of other states working along the same line and with the same purpose in view. The present school code will be completely revised under the supervision of the commission, starting with the kindergarten and working up to the college.

INDEPENDENT PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

It is expected to make the public schools of the state 100 per cent more useful and better, and when the commission completes its work the public school scholar who has started in the kindergarten, and has been prepared for college, will be able to enter college. The new county board bill, which has so recently become a law, will be made,
and it will be the basis of the new modern school for Kentucky.

There will be many sweeping changes in the school customs in this state recommended. One of the most important of these will be the establishment of a permanent professional board of education for the state. It will be recommended that this board consist of not less than three nor more than five college professors. At present the board of education is regarded as a sort of joke, as it consists of the superintendent of public instruction, whose duties are taken up entirely with the management of his department; the attorney general, whose hands is full of legal matters for the state, and the secretary of state, who has but little time to attend to educational matters.

New Law for Superintendents.
Another important recommendation will be a law looking up to the real supervision of the county schools. Under the present law, the county school superintendent, with that will be recommended, the super-

Under the present rule, the insti-

but the institutes of other states are held far more successfully in the

ENDED IN TUSSLE WAS FULTON GAME

Paducah Players Insist That Last Score Was Illegal.

Ten Inning Contest Decided By Umpire, Who Gave Home Boys
Best of It.

THREE TO THREE IN NINTH

Fulton, Ky., Aug. 4.—(Special)—Yesterday's game ended in a tussle, and it is difficult to pick who did win, although the Fulton players say that the final score was 6 to 5 in their favor. Paducah asserts that the last run did not count, as the umpire violated rules. When the ninth round was reached the score was 3 to 3, and in the tenth the Indians worked over two men. Fulton was desperate and with the kindness of the umpire made three runs.

First, the crack sidewheeler, twirled for Paducah and he struck out 17 men. Roach struck out 14 of the Indians. Bradford, of Paducah, was ousted from the park for disrupting a decision.

The score was:

Paducah	5	19	6
Fulton	6	12	1

Batteries—Hart and Block for Paducah; Roach and Maybree for Fulton.

GREAT CROWDS OF PLEASED SHOPPERS

Attend Levy's Final Sale Before Closing Out
and Re-Leasing His Store

"It is simply remarkable, the values you are giving in this sale," said an enthusiastic customer today, "and I don't know how you can do so." We would not be doing so, if we hoped for any margin of profit. However, it is strictly a case of getting rid of these goods and getting out of the way of the gentleman who has leased the store and purchased our fixtures that prompts such unheard of prices.

Remember, the sale continues only the balance of this week. It is decidedly your loss if you fail to take advantage of this great opportunity.

Some splendid values for tomorrow's selling:

I. C. PICNIC

TRAIN WILL LEAVE PADUCAH
AT 7 O'CLOCK.

Big Day Will Be Enjoyed at Cerecun
Springs by the Paducah Shop Men.

All is ready for the annual picnic of the Illinois Central railroad employees, and promptly at 7 o'clock tomorrow morning the picnic train will leave the Union station—not a minute later, as the train is compelled to run on schedule time, and not interfere with the regular trains. The train will start from Eleventh street and Broadway at 6:50 o'clock. Four extra coaches were brought in on the Cairo train and two arrived on the Fulton accommodation. The remainder of the fifteen coaches will arrive today.

The cars and the engine will be decorated with flags and bunting. On the picnic train Engineer John Trantham will be at the throttle and Fireman Hugh Long will use the shovel. The shops will be deserted and work will be forgotten for one day by the employees. On the train there will be plenty of ice water all day, but the families had better take a tin cup, as there will not be any attached to the car.

BURGLAR

BROKE INTO RESIDENCE OF
PROF. J. T. ROSS.

Famously Absent / But Window Was Prized Up—Every Drawer Is Ransacked.

Some time last week the home of Prof. J. T. Ross, Fourteenth and Monroe streets, was entered by burglars and ransacked, but owing to the absence of the family it is impossible to tell the amount of the loss. Professor Ross locked his home recently before starting on a trip, but a window was prized open. The burglary was discovered Monday afternoon by a negro woman, who went to the yard to feed the chickens. She called the attention of Patrolman Dick Wood and he found that every drawer and closet had been gone through and clothes scattered over the floor.

COLORED

TEACHERS ORGANIZE THEIR IN-STITUTE FOR COUNTY.

Many Wholesome and Helpful Truths
Contained in Address of Prof.
Jackson.

The colored teachers of McCracken county convened in Burke's chapel, A. M. E. church, and effected an organization. It was opened by singing "Scattering Precious Seeds."

The Rev. G. W. Robinson invoked divine blessing.

The principal feature of the morning session was an address by the instructor, Prof. G. W. Jackson. His subject was: "Study to Show Thyself Approved Unto God, a Workman That Needeth Not to Be Ashamed."

Among many useful and helpful things said were these:

1. "The true teacher is a workman with insight, seeing in every child entrusted to his charge great possibilities."
2. "The true teacher has skill."
3. "The teacher need not be ashamed of his work."
4. "The teacher deals with truths."
5. "A teacher ought to be a constant student, a digger after knowledge."

The following suggestions were offered all teachers:

1. Decide to be a student.
2. Outline a course of study for next school year and pursue it diligently.

Throughout Professor Jackson's talk study was the keynote. The true teacher enters the school room:

1. To be useful.
2. To develop the soul of the child.
3. To assume a responsibility to God and man for the proper development of all children entrusted to her care.
